

JAPS NEARING CITY'S CENTER

Outer Forts of Port Arthur Are Beginning to Crumble Under the Heavy Fire.

A CONTINUOUS HAIL OF SHELLS

Japanese Keep Up a Constant Firing Upon the Walls of The City Itself, Doing Considerable Damage.

Tokio, Nov. 2.—Incessantly for more than a week hundreds of Japanese siege guns have been battering at the ramparts of Port Arthur. The rain of shells continues. Enormous damage has been done to the fortifications.

The Japanese have crept up until now their advance trenches are directly under the walls of two of the most important forts.

Infantry sorties and attacks by both sides delivered with great bravery in the face of certain death punctuated the bombardment. Men are falling in hundreds in the fighting. In the face of heroic resistance the Japanese army is drawing nearer to the heart of the fortress, hewing its path through Titanic obstructions with shells and dynamite and every high explosive known to science.

Walls Are Crumbling.
Drop by drop the life blood of the fortress in men and ammunition is being sapped. Forts built to withstand the most terrific bombardment, are crumbling.

In heroic attempts to beat back the Japanese, devoted bands of Russians sally from the fortress and give up their lives on the bloodstained and shell-swept slopes, to achieve a moment's check, that might give their countrymen behind the ramparts time to repair the ruin and havoc wrought by the Japanese guns.

Fire adds its horror to the struggle. At night the skies are reddened with the glow of blazing buildings. Forts and hills sparkle with the flashes of guns. The day of death and destruction never ceases. Continuously without a moment's pause it has gone on since dawn on the morning of Oct. 24, when the Japanese definitely launched the third general attack upon the fortress.

Rain Shells on Fort.
Gathering fury each day and night that has passed, the attack has now reached a point of frenzy unparalleled in the history of sieges. Official reports to Tokyo announce that the attack is still in progress, with the bombardment heavier than at any time since the beginning of the siege.

Every day more than 1,000 shells are directed at the forts that lie directly in the path of the Japanese, at the town of Port Arthur itself, and at the warships in the harbor. Nothing escapes the deluge of shells.

The roar of the cannonade, the incessant thunder of the guns on each side, occasionally the deafening detonation of an explosion, when some daring Japanese have crept up to the very walls of a fort and fired a mine; the screeching and bursting of shells, the pitiful, incessant crackle and scream of rifle fire, and at night the red glare of fire that hangs over the doomed fortress, all combine to make a scene at once of hideousness and impressive grandeur never surpassed in any siege or battle.

Stoessel Buys Garrison.
Thus it has been for a week, and thus it is still at Port Arthur, with the remnants of its devoted garrison buoyed up by general Stoessel's indomitable will, still struggling desperately and dying in its defense.

The official story of the fighting which has raged around the fortress since the morning of Oct. 24 is told in the following report which was published by the Japanese military authorities to-night:

"From 8:30 o'clock in the morning of Oct. 26 the forts on Sungshu and Rihlung mountains, the eastern group of forts on Keekwan mountain, and a fort lying to the north of the latter were bombarded with our siege guns and naval ordnance, and 250 shells took effect.

"The naval guns directed against the Sungshu and Rihlung mountain forts sent many effective shells. The parapet of Rihlung mountain fort was demolished, and openings were made in the fort. Several portions of the cover were destroyed.

Guns are Ruined.
"Two of the most important covers on Sungshu mountain fort were destroyed by our shells. One fifteen centimeter gun was dismounted and another damaged. One gun on the northern fort of east Keekwan mountain was destroyed.

"From 2 o'clock in the afternoon other siege guns were directed against the trenches on all slopes of Sungshu mountain and Rihlung mountain and against the trenches on the south side of Pohlsan mountain. All these trenches were heavily damaged by 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

"A portion of our right wing charged against the trenches on Sungshu mountain and a portion of our center wing charged against the trenches on Rihlung mountain and on the southern part of Pohlsan mountain, and took possession of them without heavy loss.

Russians Return Fire.
"Simultaneously with the occupation of the places from which the Russians had been driven the enemy posted in the forts in their vicinity. In conjunction with the forts on West Sini Yanghou, Mantao mountain, Golden Hill, Pal Yua mountain, and Lachush, concentrated his fire against the points, where our assaults were progressing.

"The sound of our cannonade, the fire from the guns of the enemy and the bursting of shells made an impressive scene.

"On the same night, with the object of preventing the Russians from making repairs, our siege and naval guns shelled the forts of Rihlung mountain, east of Keekwan mountain, and Sungshu mountain. The enemy's warships and machinery buildings were also shelled.

Repulse Night Attacks.
"The enemy holding Sungshu and Rihlung mountains, under the protection of a shell fire, undertook several night attacks, but all of them were repulsed.

"On Oct. 27 the bombardment with our siege guns was continued, and the fire of our naval guns was directed against Sungshu, Itz, Palu and Rihlung mountains, and also against the dockyard and the warships.

"On a fort on East Keekwan mountain a gun and its carriage were completely destroyed, also a banquet hall lying between the east end of the north front and the center of Rihlung mountain fort, two small guns and a gun on the east front of the same fort.

"During the same night our engineer corps was sent against the northern part of east Keekwan mountain, and succeeded in destroying the outer casemate of a projected point.

"During the night the enemy resorted to every means to obstruct our work, assaulting and using bombs.

"On Oct. 28 the bombardment with heavy and other siege guns was continued, and its effect was good. Two hundred and eighty-five effective shells have been counted.

Magazine Is Exploded.
"The banquet hall and the buildings inside the Rihlung fort were destroyed and vital portions of the fort were considerably damaged. On the northern portion of east Keekwan mountain a magazine was exploded and a field gun was destroyed. On Sungshu mountain a twelve-centimeter canon and another gun were hit. On Itz mountain a twelve-centimeter canon and carriage were overturned and another gun was heavily damaged. On the fort north of Satal Yanghou the guns and works were heavily damaged.

"A conflagration occurred in the old city and a second conflagration was observed in a factory at the northeast base of Golden Hill, which lasted for three hours.

"During the night a machinery building near the harbor was bombarded by our guns, which also protected the work of the engineers."

HALLOWEEN PRANK IS FATAL

One Man Near Death and Seven Others Have Shot Wounds.

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 2.—Roy Lindsay, 27 years old, and married, is dying, and seven other young men are nursing shot wounds which they received during a Halloween lark at Smith's Creek. The young men, accompanied by several others who were not wounded, went to the farm of Joseph Lambert, who it is said, threatened that any pranks at his expense would be severely punished. Lambert and three hired men fired on them with shotguns from behind a straw stack.

MANY KILLED BY RESERVOIR BREAK

North Carolina City Is Nearly Swept Away by the Flood of Water.

(Special by Scripps-McLure.)
Salem, N. C., Nov. 2.—The north wall of the brick reservoir at the Winston waterworks burst at five this morning, killing ten or more people, white and colored. The water swept away a number of dwellings. The cause of the disaster is not yet ascertained.

Seven men are known to be dead and many missing. When the wall of the reservoir collapsed it buried the home of Martin Peoples with his family. Thirteen residences were destroyed. A million and a half gallons of water escaped, devastating over a mile of territory. The colored settlement in the vicinity of the reservoir was entirely wrecked. The negroes are working to rescue the victims. The cause of the disaster and overflow of the reservoir is not known. The reservoir burst without warning. The victims were drowned while asleep in bed. One couple floated on a bed for five hundred yards and neither were injured. The dead are: Mrs. Peoples, Mrs. John Peo and daughter, Thomas Southern and five negroes.

Madison Man Commits Suicide After the Death of his Former Employer.

(Special to The Gazette.)
Madison, Wis., Nov. 2.—Brooding over the death of his employer, for whom he worked nearly 25 years, Joseph Narey threw himself before a moving train in this city and was instantly killed. He walked along the railroad tracks of the St. Paul road yesterday and when a freight train approached he threw himself down, put his head on the rail and covered his head with his hands. The engineer blew the whistle but Narey did not move. His skull was cut in two and parts of his body were badly bruised. He was in the employ of William Donigan, who recently died from hydrophobia, and the death of the latter is said to have caused him much worry which led him to commit suicide. He was unmarried.

COAL STRIKES DELAY TRADE

Only Twenty-One Mines Are Being Operated in Southern Part of Illinois.

EXPECT TO MAKE A SETTLEMENT

Opinion Now Prevails Among the Workers That the Matters Will Be Adjusted Within Ten Days at Least.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 2.—All the coal mines in northern Illinois were shut down Tuesday, and from reports received at the headquarters of the Coal Operators' association only twenty-one in the southern part of the state were being operated.

The operators expect that many of the engineers will report for duty, and still hold to the opinion that the strike will be of short duration.

Information from the different mining points throughout the state show that the tie-up is almost general, and that nearly 50,000 men were idle yesterday.

Commissioner Herman Just of the Illinois Coal Operators' association issued a statement in which he denied the claims made by Secretary Jenkins of the Engineers' union regarding the advance in wages during the last four years.

Wages Are Doubled.
"The books of the operators will show that the wages of the engineers aggregate twice what they did in 1900," said Mr. Just. "That does not mean, that each individual engineer gets twice the wages he received four years ago, but that the scale has been increased, hours of labor reduced, and the work required of each man is much less than formerly."

Some of the operators say that the strike may strengthen prices, although there is not likely to be any increase in price to the consumer. There is an abundance of fuel on hand, and, although the railroads have taken possession of a number of cars, they are being held back and not consigned.

Reports from Affected Districts.
Dispatches received from the different mining centers show the following results:

St. Louis, Mo.—All the mines at Trenton which send heavy supplies of coal to St. Louis are closed. Those at Centralia are shut down, although the operators voted to accede to the demands of the engineers. About 750 men stopped work on orders from their union. At Mascoutah and Rentchler the mines are closed. The majority of the miners are against the strike and are working to bring about a settlement.

The superintendent of the Odin coal mine is a licensed engineer and is running the engine. The miners remained at work. At Pana, 1,200 men are idle and all the mines are closed. The mines at Hillsboro, Marion, Sandoval, and Springfield are all closed.

Scale Is Signed.
The scale was signed at Coffeen and all the mines are working with a full force. At Kimmunity nearly 200 men are out. Fourteen mines in Jackson county are closed and 1,000 men are idle. Litchfield mines are closed and 160 men are out. The White Walnut mine at Pinckneyville is running, and it is expected the other mines will remain open. In the Carterville district 3,000 men are idle.

Spring Valley, Ill.—Four thousand miners in Spring Valley, Ladd, Seatonville, Marquette, and Dalsell are idle because of the strike of hoisting engineers. The miners are strongly opposed to the forced suspension of work and are exerting their influence with the engineers to have them return. The latter, too, are opposed to the strike order, as they voted in favor of arbitration. It is believed the difficulties will be settled in a week.

Object to Non-Union Men.
Carbondale, Ill.—Fully 90 per cent of the mines in southern Illinois are closed. The miners say they will not work with non-union engineers, which is expected to complicate matters. At Carterville, Elgin, and Johnson City only four miners are working and they will close to-night.

Mt. Vernon, Ill.—The coal mine shaft here has ceased hoisting coal and 200 men are idle.

Murphysboro, Ill.—All the mines here except one are closed and 1,000 men are idle.

Marion, Ill.—Three thousand men in this district are idle. A settlement is expected in ten days.

Danville, Ill.—No mines are in operation here. About 3,000 men are idle.

Harrisburg, Ill.—Every mine in Saline county, numbering fifteen, is shut down and will probably remain so. Eighteen hundred miners are thrown out of employment.

BANDITS SHOT THE BANK CASHIER AND RODE AWAY

Armed Outlaws Make a Raid on The First National Bank at Cody, Wyoming.

(Special by Scripps-McLure.)
Cody, Wyo., Nov. 2.—Four heavily armed outlaws from the Hole-in-the-Wall country Tuesday afternoon raided the First National bank of this place and, after shooting and killing Cashier Frank Middaugh of the bank, had a running fight with cowboys and hunters and escaped into Rattlesnake mountains, where they are being pursued by half dozen different posers.

The Hole-in-the-Wall gang are noted as the most desperate outlaws in the west and the Cody posers are determined to wipe the band out of existence. Buffalo Bill himself is en route from Omaha in a special car, having with him a party of titled Englishmen and two of his Sioux Indian scouts.

ENJOYED A TOUR OF EXPOSITION

SOCIAL UNION CLUB OPENED ITS SEASON

OF AFTER DINNER TALKS

At the Y. M. C. A. Building Last Evening—About One Hundred Members Present.

Nearly a hundred members attended the opening meeting of the Social Union club at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium last evening. After full supper Supt. H. C. Buell inaugurated the discussion of future plans and the subjects of the evening, "Glimpses of the World's Fair." Marshall Richardson of the program committee announced the following subjects for succeeding meetings: "Reformers and Their Reforms—La Follette, Deneen, and Folk," for December; "What Are My Five Best Books and Why?" for January; "Illustrated Science for February; "Does a College Education Pay?" for March; "The Necessary Qualifications for Success in Business," for April. Arthur Fisher was chosen as the leader for the next meeting.

In introducing the first speaker, Leader Buell said that the topic, so far as its manner of presentation was concerned, was best with many difficulties. Like Frank Stockton's man who had traveled through Europe but who could find no one to listen to his story of the trip and finally had to hire a deaf and dumb man to listen to him, much patience and forbearance on the part of those who had not attended the exposition might be required on this occasion. A. E. Matheson took up the "History of the Louisiana Purchase." Without any outlet to the east and with the Mississippi river as the sole highway for their commerce, it became a matter of the utmost importance to the early settlers that this waterway should be kept open, and that no foreign nation possessing territory at the mouth should interfere. The speaker believed that Hamilton with his prophetic vision saw something of the future of this country and was just as anxious as Jefferson to secure this territory, though it was not put in his way to lead the movement. Hamilton was a federalist, believed in a broad construction of the constitution, and was in favor of curtailing the power of states in order to place more power in the hands of the central government. Jefferson, imbued with the ideas of the French Revolution, was a strict constructionist and believed in a curtailment of the central government that more power might be lodged with the states.

As early as 1803 the immense territory of Louisiana had been taken in the name of France and ceded to Spain in 1762 and was ceded to France under a secret treaty in 1800. In 1803 the purchase was consummated, the price paid being $15,000,000. Napoleon planned to set up a great empire tributary to his own in this new world and only the threatened crisis between Great Britain and France in the years 1802-3 made the bargain possible. Jefferson was a strict constructionist but in this instance the question of expediency caused him to depart from his tenets. Bryce in his "American Commonwealth" says that in the purchase of this territory without the consent of congress, Jefferson was the boldest of all presidents. Jefferson wanted an amendment to the constitution sanctioning the move but his wish was never ratified. Congress, however, ratified the act, a matter of fact he did no more than others have done. In government it is necessary to take note of overpowering necessities. Lincoln did things which the courts would not have sanctioned in times of peace. It was a great event and Jefferson had a glorious part in it. The exposition is a fitting commemoration of it.

In introducing L. L. Hilton who was to speak on "The Architectural Grandeur of the Buildings," Mr. Buell spoke in glowing terms of Festival hall and the terrace of states. Mr. Hilton went back to the early architecture of the Greeks calling attention to the first three orders—the Ionic, Doric, and Corinthian—and the evolutions in Italy of the Tuscan order from the Doric and the composite order from the Corinthian and Ionic. Every building was constructed according to columns. The foundation corresponded to the base of any one of these five orders of columns, the body to the shaft, and the frieze or cornice to the capital. The rules of proportion were so accurate that it was impossible to change any portion without destroying the harmony of the whole structure. When that was acknowledged it must be looked upon as a great achievement to take the five orders of architecture and combining them with the styles and types of almost every nation of the world, secure harmony and beauty for the whole. The landscape architecture of the Chicago fair of 1893, could not have been improved upon. Every foot of ground was worked down to make the best presentation possible and there was no opportunity for further work. At St. Louis a large portion of the ground remained as nature left it. The cascade garden, grand basin, and fountains were of unequalled beauty. The palace of varied industries was perhaps the most beautiful of the buildings, being constructed in the purely Corinthian style with long colonnades, arches, and passages. The palace of machinery was of the plain Doric order, massive and stable in appearance. Festival hall had the largest dome in the world, surpassing St. Peter's at Rome which reigned supreme for 300 years. At a distance of ten miles the exposition buildings as a mass form one of the emblems of United States, the central figure being Festival hall with its wings outstretched to resemble the American eagle. While the fair buildings did not in all instances correspond to the proportions of the column, large courts were built in the center to overcome this. The agricultural building, the speaker said, was only an imitation of a building.

Electrical Displays. Joseph Schuler spoke of "The Marvels of the Electrical Displays," characterizing the St. Louis show as unsurpassed even by that of the Pan American. He dwelt in an interesting manner on the new invention which reproduces handwriting and the De Forest wireless system which transmits the news of the exposition by means of electric sparks across four miles of space to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch office. Short and long sparks were employed in the same manner as the short and long sounds in the Morse alphabet. An automatic device for stopping engines when a large load is suddenly cut off, developments in the alternating current, the Cooper-Hewitt arc lights which illuminate the cascades and the vapor lamps, the exhibitions of Edison's recent and early experiments, and the big generators installed at the fair all occupied the speaker's attention.

The leader alluded to the great exhibition of automobiles at the exposition and the expectations entertained that George S. Parker would be present to talk on this and other industrial phases. A message received stated that he had started out in the country with his automobile Tuesday afternoon and was there yet.

The leader spoke of his own interest in a machine that could pare off a shaft one thousandth of a quarter of an inch. P. H. Korst was called upon and spoke in an interesting manner of some of the steam turbines which attracted his attention at the exposition. Some had said that the turbine was a fad which would pass, but if so it was at least an interesting development. A 7,000 horse power vertical Curtis ran so quietly that one was scarcely aware that it was in operation. In answer to a question he said that the difference between a turbine and a reciprocating engine was that in the former steam was first injected into one end of the cylinder and then the other, while in the latter steam jets caused the motion in one direction in the same manner as water power.

Social Life at the Fair. Leader Buell, quoted President Francis as saying that industries had reached such a magnitude that there would probably never be another world's fair, that each of the varied lines would probably be separate hereafter. Henry Cody talked of "Social Life at the Fair." He took his hearers on a very interesting tour of the state building, with dances and receptions in the evenings, the Isoroto village, the Boer War, and the Pike. Pausing for a moment to examine Frederick Remington's sculpture of the shouting cowboys at the entrance, he turned first to the Tyrolean Alps with its renowned orchestras and leaders, and then led the way down the entire avenue, glancing in at the Hagenback wild animal show, the theatres, the chutes, the fire-fighters, and finally the scenic railway. Here an accident happened, a train running off the track and breaking one man's arm and tearing another's ear off.

Finds a Good Idea. H. M. Craig told in a very entertaining manner of his adventures in Brazil, of the man from Brazil who had his diamonds higgled away on the scenic railway, of an investigation of the big pumps under festival hall, the sky-line at night, and the songs of the gondoliers. State Y. M. C. A. Secretary Anderson of Milwaukee was present and when called upon to speak said that he had been glad to catch the spirit of the social life which the young men in Jansville were enjoying, that the movement was a new one that had originated here, that it was worthy of the emulation of other cities, and that it was certain to have a good effect on business and life in general. It was a great thing to have a social time in a clean, profitable, and wholesome way.

News for the Railroad Men.

I. W. Hager expects to lay off tonight to go on a few days' hunting trip.

Five extra stock trains passed through the city last evening.

John Daly of the cinder pit is on the sick list.

Big Equipment Orders.

During the past week the following railroads have ordered cars from the American Car and Foundry company: Milwaukee, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie, 1,000 box and 200 flat cars; Hocking Valley, 200 additional box cars; St. Louis & Western, 20 cabooses for November delivery; miscellaneous parties, 100 cars of various types. The New York Central & Hudson river railroad has increased its order for coal and box cars from 1,500 to 2,000 each; the order will be equally divided between the American Car and Foundry company and the Western Steel Car and Foundry company. The Pullman company have received orders from the Ingoldby Automatic Car company for five freight cars. The Pennsylvania Railroad company is having 200 coke cars built. The Mather, Stock Car company is having 500 stock cars built. The Cherokee construction company is having twenty-five freight cars constructed. The Lehigh Valley railroad has ordered two cafe coaches for December delivery.

The following companies have ordered locomotives from the American Locomotive company: Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, five simple prairie type locomotives; Chicago & North Western, sixteen locomotives; Central Vermont, nine passenger and five freight engines. The New York New Haven & Hartford is having twenty locomotives built, and the Louisville & Nashville is having five locomotives constructed.

The Canada Car company, with a capital of $3,000,000, has just been incorporated and will build at Montreal a plant capable of turning out twenty-five wooden freight cars, fifteen steel freight cars and fifteen passenger coaches a day. The plant will be in operation early next summer.

New Speed Records. Superintendent Spielmann of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad has received some interesting details of the record-breaking run made Sunday with President Murray's special train. The train was composed of five cars—a baggage car, a diner, and three private cars. It was drawn by an engine of the Atlantic type, No. 1461, J. F. Mitchell, engineer.

The train left South Chicago at 9:02 a. m. and reached Garrett, Ind., at 11:14 a. m., making the run of 131 miles in 132 minutes. This included time lost in making three full stops and several slow-downs. It was the fastest time ever made over that section of the road. The next best record was made with a special train bringing the Hamilton club, a Chicago back from the inauguration of President McKinley. Then the run was made in 156 minutes.

SMALL FARMS IN THE WEST WILL SOLVE PROBLEM.

IRRIGATION BENEFITS MANY

What Will Some Day Be Accomplished Throughout the Whole West.

Special—Great Falls, Montana. The wage earners of the country and those who would ameliorate the hard conditions of the laboring man and see him established in comfort in a home of his own will find some interest and profit in the campaign and lecture tour which is being made throughout the west by George H. Maxwell, executive chairman of the National Irrigation Association. Mr. Maxwell has spoken at the principal cities in Montana and his program takes him also through Washington, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Texas, North Dakota, beside large eastern centers.

The lamp of hope which he held out to the west and to the country at large, in a speech at Great Falls was that the idea should be fostered that any strong man can from one acre of good ground get a good living for himself and his family.

"Get an acre and live on it," he said. "Get an acre and live on it. I wish I could burn that thought into the heart of every working man in America. In the west I would say, 'I declare that if every man who now works eight hours a day in a factory or a smelter could work four hours a day on his own acre of irrigated land, he would double his income and he would insure himself, his wife and his children against want when the day's wage should stop.'"

Change Our Educational System. "But we must have a different system of national education from the present one," he said, "which trains our children away from the land. This idea is gaining ground. We have manual training and domestic science taught in some of our schools. That is getting back to the true system of education where, instead of the old folks remaining at home to die alone while the boys go to the cities with the idea of becoming millionaires but to end as counter jumpers and clerks, the making and keeping of a home is taught."

"One more thing should be coupled to the school system. Every child should be made a gardener and a horticulturist. The winter term should be devoted half to books and half to work on the benches, and a summer term should be devoted to agriculture. The boys would learn to build a home and the girls to care for the man's wives and mothers."

Better Than Prohibition Laws. "The way to close the saloons is to teach the girls to cook. Many a man has gone wrong because a woman can not cook. The summer school should be at the edge of the city where children could attend it from the kindergarten to the high school. They could be taught to raise everything on five acres that goes to make a home. We are gradually getting away from the heresy that money is all in this life and that man must raise something, sell it and buy something back again before he gets what he wants. God intended us to make a living directly from the land."

"The evil of our life is not that the rich are getting richer or the poor are getting poorer, but it is the lack of cultivation of the soil. No man can oppress a sturdy race of farmers that own and till the land."

Resources of the Treasure State. "There are great resources in Montana, but if the people want to develop them on sound and enduring lines they must be developed in such a way that the mass of the people will be rooted to the soil. Her mines are wondrous in their productivity, but her greatest wealth lies in her rich soil."

"You have great water power here at Great Falls, the greatest, I believe, of any state in the Union, and you may produce here a second Chicago, with all its splendor, its slums, its immorality, its crimes; its starvation when the day's wage stops. But you do not want that. You want to lay here a foundation, broad and deep, for an entirely different condition, and the laying of that foundation has been begun as a result of the achievements of a grand old man, Senator Paris Gibson, whom the people of this city in days to come will reverence and honor as one of the greatest minds that the west has ever produced."

Farm Acre Colonies Being Established. "The movement is already begun to establish farm acre colonies where men in the east who have a little money can come out onto an acre or land and live there a year or two years and be taught how to farm. Then they will be colonist farmers worth having and this will relieve, too, the congested centers of the east, and every live community in the west should plant such a farm instruction colony. The work has been begun in Arizona and when its good results are seen the plan will be adopted by every western section. If it will appeal to all classes, it will appear to every western man who desires to see his country settled by thrifty citizens. It will appeal to the merchant; it will appeal to the man who has land to sell."

"If a man, intent upon accomplishing the most with a large tract of land, had one million acres, and it were possible for him to have a prosperous family on every five acres, would he divide it into farms of a square mile or of a quarter section? With small farms, come good roads. The dreaded isolation of the old farm life gives way to neighbors every few hundred yards, and all the comforts of modern civilization become possible."

Our Greatest National Resource. "The land is the greatest resource of a nation. Our public lands should be securely held for the real home-makers. There are men in the west who have acquired, as was never intended by congress, great tracts of thousands of acres of land without settlement and without the building of a single house."

These laws are still upon the statute books. More over the great livestock interests and the speculators are intent upon keeping them there and even upon attempting to secure new land speculative legislation. Attempts to graft the National Irrigation Act.

If the National Irrigation Association had not insisted upon eliminating the use of the desert land law, the constitution clause of the 'homestead law' and the timber and stone law, under the national irrigation law, all the lands to be reclaimed by the government would have been seized by speculators, and national irrigation would have become a stretch in the nostrils of the American people."

If the people of Montana desire national irrigations, with all its magnificent possibilities for the state, they must stand firm for the repeal of all land laws except the homestead law. The faith of the west has been pledged to the east and that faith must be kept. The west must provide homes for the many upon the lands to be reclaimed else the east will spew out national irrigation as a graft and a hideous evil."

"We would rather have homes for men than carols," he said, "and we are prouder of the best products of Montana, the finest people on earth, than we are of the fattest sheep or the fattest cattle."

"The National Irrigation Association stands for a rigid land policy that will walk the grafts of every land grabbing scheme. It wants the title of all timbered lands to remain with the government and the stumpage sold, but the land to remain in the government so that our water sheds shall not be ruthlessly destroyed. It asks that every man who gets title from the government must be an actual settler and to show his good faith by living upon the land five years. You can not expect the east to donate millions to reclaim lands that go into speculative land schemes."

COUNTY PIONEER CALLED BEYOND

John McQuillin, for Decades a Prominent and Prosperous Farmer of Lima, Is Dead.

After residing in the county for nearly sixty years John McQuillin passed away at his home in Lima last Friday. Mr. McQuillin was eighty-two years of age and came to Lima from Darrocy county, Ireland, in the early fifties. In 1853 he was married in that township and settled down on a farm in the vicinity in which he has since lived. There is left a wife, three daughters, Mrs. Mary Jane Diekhoff, Mrs. Agnes Fernal and Mrs. Charles Hill, all of Lima. There are also fourteen grandchildren and four great-grand children. Funeral services over the remains were held from the Episcopal church in Whitewater Monday, the Rev. Rice of that city officiating. Four grand sons acted as pall bearers. They were: Alexander and John Cashore, Lewis Worfal and Henry Webb. Interment was in the Whitewater cemetery.

"If a woman ever gets so 'home-better' than with looking at, she'll better take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. Brings back the bloom of youth. 35 cents. Tea or tablets. Smith Drug Co.

For a slender figure the design pictured offers many charming possibilities. The blouse coat is slashed at intervals to admit a glimpse of satin of a cafe au lait tint, soutache braid in brown and gold serving to outline the slashed portion. The sleeve, too, is slashed over the forearm and a double puff ruffles from elbow to wrist. The skirt is disposed with pleated panels, the pleats stitched down for a short distance and pressed to the hem. The length is such that just clears the ground all around. The vest is in light onion cloth, with little gold buttons and gold strapping to simulate a buttonhole.

INFORMATION FOR VOTERS

Remember, there are two ballots to be voted for this Election: (1) The National, State, Congressional, Senatorial, Legislative and County Ticket.
(2) The Primary Election Law Question.

HOW TO VOTE ON THE

U. S. STANDARD VOTING MACHINE.

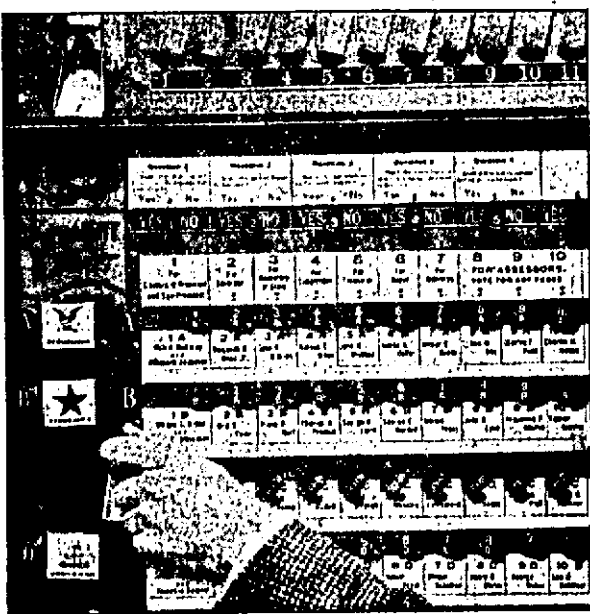

Move the Red Handle of the Curtain Lever to the right as far as it will go.
This will close the Curtain around you, and unlock the machine for voting.

VOTER ABOUT TO CLOSE THE CURTAIN.

HOW TO VOTE A STRAIGHT TICKET.

Having closed the Curtain—Pull the Party Lever bearing the name or emblem of your Party over to the right UNTIL THE BELL RINGS, and then let it go back. This turns down all of the Pointers of your party to a voting position.

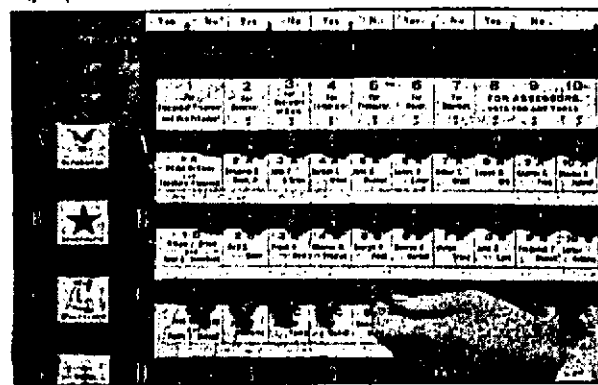

VOTER PULLING OVER PARTY LEVER.

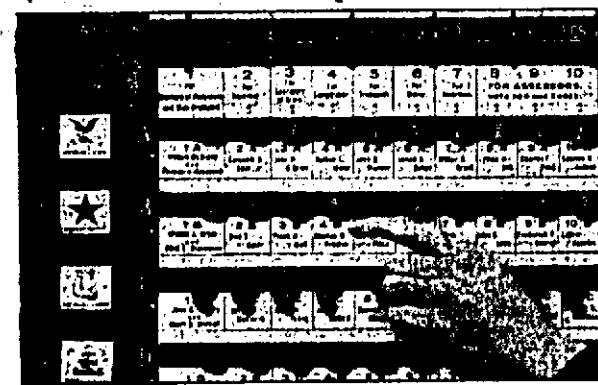

Leave the Pointers as they are (down in a voting position). Move the Red Handle of the Curtain Lever to the left as far as it will go.
This will count your vote, open the Curtain, and set the machine for the next voter.

HOW TO VOTE A SPLIT TICKET.

Having closed the Curtain—Pull the Party Lever bearing the name or emblem of your Party over to the right UNTIL THE BELL RINGS, and then let it go back. This turns down all of the Pointers of your party to a voting position.
Turn back (up) the Pointer from over the name of the candidate you wish to vote for that office. See illustration below.

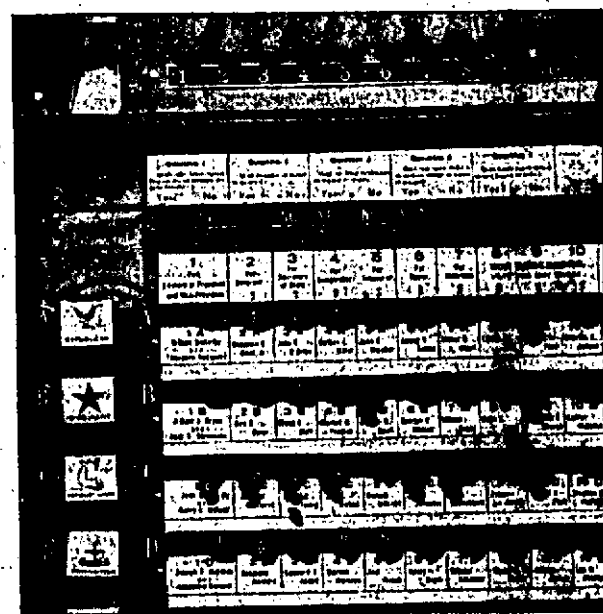

And then turn down a Pointer over the name of the candidate you wish to vote for that office. See illustration below.

Be sure to complete each Split before making another.
For an office to which two or more candidates are to be elected, the given number can be voted for, regardless of position.
After the vote is arranged, move the Red Handle of the Curtain Lever to the left as far as it will go. This will count one vote for every candidate that has a Pointer left down over his name.

HOW TO VOTE ON QUESTIONS.

To vote Yes, turn the Question Pointer to the word Yes, and leave it there. To vote No, turn the Question Pointer to the word No, and leave it there.

THE ABOVE CUT SHOWS:

That the voter has voted Party Lever "C" and then—Split his vote for Treasurer, on Column 5.
That he has voted for Assessors, voting for three on Column 9 (for which office he is permitted to vote for three candidates on either of the Columns, 8, 9, and 10).
That he has voted "Yes" on Questions 1 and 2.
That he has not voted on Question 3.
That he has voted "No" on Question 4.
If the voter desires, he may make any further changes while the Curtain remains closed, as the vote is not registered until the Curtain is opened.
The Pointers must be left down over the names to be voted for. If the voter turns them back the vote will not be counted, as the opening of the Curtain turns back the Pointers and counts the vote.

Janesville Daily Gazette, Monday, November 2, 1864.—The Meeting last night at the court room was largely attended and the speaking by Messrs. Allen and Cassady occupied fully two hours and was listened to with the closest attention, eliciting frequent outbursts of applause. The give club did its full share as usual in adding to the interest of the occasion. Near the close of the meeting Major May offered the following series of resolutions which were unanimously adopted when the meeting adjourned with three cheers for the Union.

Nor the hanging gardens of Babylon, nor the pyramids of Egypt are as much a source of wonderment and surprise as the perfection attained by Mr. Howe in the art of projecting moving pictures. Nor is Mr. Howe's exhibition merely wonderful. The entire program has such a skillful and studied blending of varied scenes of life and travel that it arouses the enthusiasm of the most jaded amusement patron. So impressive are any of the features in the present program, that they will linger long in the memory of old and young. It possesses further, the still rarer merit of appealing with equal force to all. The exhibition will be presented in Janesville, on November 3.

STILL WANT THE BADGERS TO COME

Leland Stanford and the University of California Look for Games.

Football authorities of the two great universities of California—Leland Stanford and University of California—have not yet ceased negotiating with Wisconsin for a western trip during the holidays, letters having been lately received from the west with the trip in view. The defeat of Wisconsin by Michigan, however, together with the depleted Wisconsin treasury and the faculty aversion to post season football activity, make it a settled fact that no such trip will be taken. This was announced yesterday by Graduate Manager C. H. Kilpatrick.

The bad feeling at Madison resultant upon the defeat by the Wolverines has by no means subsided and in the last two days the sentiment in favor of returning to the eastern professional coach system has perceptibly increased. The situation is extremely unpleasant and, indeed, unsupportable. Coaches, trainers and manager are in disfavor and are the subject of acclamation which seems to be unjust largely. It is talked about the Latin quarter, for example, with much spirit that the Greek letter fraternities "run athletics" and that politics has encroached into the making up of the teams. It is a fact that the fraternities dominate the athletic board of directors, but there are only three members of the football team who belong to the secret social societies—Captain Bush, Vanderboom and George Jones. The captain and the star left halfback are certainly deserving of their positions and fairness compels the admission that little Quarterback Jones defeated all his competitors for his place, regardless of his membership in the Psi Upsilon fraternity. The fact is that the terrible whipping which Michigan administered to Wisconsin ranks bitterly and this is probably the reason for the common declaration that "the whole bunch will be cleaned out as soon as their contracts expire," meaning Manager Kilpatrick, Trainer O'Dea and Coaches Curtis and Cochems.

Strong feeling on the part of the members of the Wisconsin university football team has been occasioned by the report that difficulty is in prospect regarding the selection of officials for the Minnesota game a week from Saturday at Minneapolis. The management will not indicate the basis of the report and indicates that the matter will be adjusted satisfactorily. From members of the team it is learned that the Badgers are determined not to stand any "monkeying" on the part of the Gophers and that unless the officials are settled upon prior to the departure of the Wisconsin team for the twin cities, some players at least will refuse to go. It is not expected, however, that any will persist in this determination. In football circles here the impression prevails, justly or otherwise, that Minnesota "works a scheme" to secure friendly officials, and it is believed here that this is for the purpose of safeguarding the so-called Minnesota rough game from danger of disastrous penalizing. It is claimed that the Gopher managers proceed in a dilatory way to choose officials, that the settlement is delayed if possible until near the time for the teams to go upon the field

HOW THEY FISH FOR WILY CARP

Interesting Sights at Lake Koshkonong, Where Seines Are Worked.

Two steam launches with powerful engines, make life interesting at lake Koshkonong, these days, and the hunter, grown weary with watching for the ducks that never come, is regaled with a sight of the fishing craft as they steam from camp near the mouth of the river at Black Hawk Island, and start out in different directions for the day's work.

Each steamer has in tow a couple of boats 20 feet long, and in the last boat is loaded the seine handled by a crew of half a dozen men under the supervision of a game warden whose business it is to see that all game fish are returned to the lake after the haul is made.

The seine, 500 yards long with 1,000 yards of line at each end, is supported by cork buoys which bob up like apples, holding in place the net 12 feet wide and loaded at the bottom.

A landing is made and one end of the line attached to the shore and placed in charge of three men with a windlass, then the little steamer makes a circuit of half a mile or more, and lands at a point 1,000 yards down the shore, where another windless and crew are set to work to wind up the line.

After two or three hours of hard work the seine has been brought into a circle perhaps 50 feet in diameter contains the catch. As the circle narrows the fish get up a great commotion and when they are brought into shallow water, the crew are kept busy in throwing the carp, dogfish and red-horse into boats near by. The game fish are released and then another hour is spent in recollecting the net for the next haul.

This is carp fishing as it has been conducted at Koshkonong for many years. One haul last summer below the Carcagne club, yielded 13,000 pounds of fish, but a haul last Friday at Bingham's yielded less than 50 pounds.

The industry is conducted by a New York firm, who pay the state one cent per pound for the catch. The fish are kept alive in large floating boxes until ready to ship and then thrown into boxes made for the purpose, which hold 150 pounds. These boxes are zinc lined, the bottom covered with crushed ice, and the fish covered with ice where they squirm until frozen stiff. The supposition is that they are sold in the New York market for game fish.

Could You Ask More?

Dr. Richards, Dentist:

Dear Sir:—I expect soon to remove to California and before going I desire to tell you how well-satisfied I am with the extensive Dental Work you did for me some two years ago.

It has stood the test of hard usage and is today as sound and true as ever. It has kept my mouth comfortable. It is beautiful work. Notwithstanding the long hours I spent in your chair, before the work was completed, I can honestly say your work was painless to me.

The money I paid you was the best investment I ever made in its results to me in health, comfort and satisfaction. Yours sincerely, LEWIS RIDER, Racket Store, West Milwaukee St.

THE GOVERNOR'S STRENGTH.

That the governor possesses a strong personality is admitted by every man who comes in contact with him. He also possesses elements of popularity, which win many friends and a loyal following.

The cordial grasp of the hand and the touch of familiarity are tokens of good fellowship and coming from an official, they have wonderful influence with the masses. There are thousands of men in the state who are ready to support the measure which he advocates, not because of any knowledge they may possess concerning the merits or demerits, but because he advocates it.

This is true concerning the primary law. The measure, which is being published in almost every paper in the state, will be read by comparatively few people and yet thousands of men will vote for it because it is the governor's measure.

As an orator the governor is not eloquent, but he is an orator of rare ability, because he says things strong and convincing people of his sincerity. The man who can state a proposition which is not popular and then sway an audience to the point of endorsement is an orator. Beyond his personality is his ability as an organizer and unscrupulous leader. The men who believe in him are ready to follow him to any extreme, and his bidding is law. The state has never produced but one La Follette and that is one of the many for the welfare of the commonwealth.

The argument is used that the men who oppose him are politicians who are envious. That he is fighting the "machine" and the "machine" is a menace to public good.

This is not true. The men opposing him the most vigorously are the men whose capital and ability are invested in the business and industrial interests of the state. These men are not politicians, neither are they office seekers. They believe that the governor's theories in practice would be ruinous and they can not do less than enter a protest.

The republican party of the state is opposing him, because he is an unsafe leader, and they have no confidence in his republicanism.

Had the governor been well balanced he might have been an honor to the state instead of an obstructionist and party destroyer.

THE HUMANE SOCIETY.

If there is any organization in the city which should command the sympathy and support of every intelligent citizen, it is the humane society. Engaged in a work of philanthropy of the highest order, seeking neither honor nor reward except the consciousness that dumb animals are being protected from abuse, the officers of this society give liberality of time and money.

They are entitled to every encouragement, not only because the work is humane, but because it is an honor to the city to have this little band of workers connected with it.

The population of a city is not all represented by human beings. There is a silent contingency unable to speak for itself, commanding but little attention, and enjoying but little in the way of protection or consideration, and yet this contingency is more necessary to the welfare of the city than a host of people who resemble men and women because they wear clothes.

The animal kingdom is a wonderful kingdom, peopled with intelligent beings, yet demanding nothing. Representatives of this kingdom are most faithful servants. They never complain and seldom rebel and yet they suffer all sorts of indignities. They ask nothing in return for service but they are entitled to food and shelter and humane treatment. This the Humane Society attempts to have furnished. Lend a hand and make the work more effective.

STATE TAXES.

A dispatch from Madison says Governor La Follette, Secretary of State Houser and State Treasurer Purcell, sitting as a state board of assessments of taxes, yesterday decided to remit all of the state tax for the year 1905.

This action was taken at the instigation of the governor who is seeking to make political capital. The state treasury is nearly bankrupt. Had not the state recovered about $480,000 from the federal government for war claims the state coffers would be depleted entirely. The amount of the state tax which was remitted was $142,570. October 1 the general balance in the general fund was $863,592.64. It is estimated that the balance in the treasury January 1, 1905, will be $348,500 and that the receipts during the year to said general fund will be $3,920,250. The disbursements are estimated at $3,244,600. The above named three state officials transferred from the general fund as a portion of the state tax the sum of $942,570 to be applied to interest on public indebtedness, free high schools, graded schools, university, normal schools and capitol building fund. The transferring of these is declared by prominent lawyers to be unconstitutional.

WHAT DO YOU WANT?

Vote for Roosevelt and Fairbanks and elect a republican congress. If you want the honor and dignity of the country upheld; If you want present prosperous conditions continued; If you want the affairs of government administered intelligently and economically; If you want the books kept open and dishonesty punished wherever found;

If you want grasping monopolies repressed and forced to obey the law;

If you want justice administered to all, rich and poor alike;

If you want a hungry horde of democratic looters kept out of office; If you want illegal trusts rebuked for contributing to the democratic campaign fund;

If you want such tricksters as D. B. Hill given no place in the cabinet; If you want corrupt Tammany not to be given a chance to raid the national treasury;

If you want the Tammany grafting system not to fasten its clutch on every branch of the federal government.

If you want a manly man retained in the white house;

If you want a democratic nonentity a weak tool of tricky politicians, kept out of the presidential chair;

If you want the nation to retain its lead among the world powers as a peace promoter;

If you want firmness displayed when firmness will protect American lives and property interests;

In short, if you want everything that a good, patriotic citizen should want, vote for Roosevelt and Fairbanks and elect a republican congress.

HOW IS THIS, MR. CLEVELAND?

Ex-President Grover Cleveland says, in a solemn letter advising young men, that his first vote was cast for "the experienced, undramatic Buchanan," rather than for Fremont, the "Pathfinder." According to the record, Grover Cleveland was born on the 18th day of March, 1837. He could not have reached the age of 21 years in 1856, when Buchanan was elected. Not until 1859 was Grover Cleveland of legal voting age. But, as the Washington Star remarks, "they used to vote early and often" in those days!

According to the governor his success in the present campaign is of more vital importance than the success of the national party or any of its candidates. That brand of republicanism will never work. The state will survive after the governor retires from the stage.

The fact that a Janesville audience gives a man a respectful hearing does not mean that the people endorse him. It is simply an evidence of intelligence and good breeding. The little private conference to be held next Tuesday is more significant.

If the governor is defeated he proposes to start out on another campaign November 9th. Wouldn't it be well for him to devote a few days to the business of the state?

The county clerk, with nothing to lose, is traveling over the county denouncing the party that has honored him. This is gratitude with a vengeance.

Over confidence has caused many a defeat. The election will not be decided until the evening of November 8th. Your vote may turn the scale.

A vote for Roosevelt and Fairbanks means a vote for continued prosperity.

Judge Parker is a little mixed in his arithmetic on the Philippine question.

Vote yourself and then see that your neighbor votes next Tuesday.

PRESS COMMENT.

Milwaukee Sentinel: La Follette has one advantage over Dowle. His patients have a chance to recover.

Chicago Tribune: It is given to few men to crowd as much activity into forty-six years as the strenuous person in the White house has done.

Indianapolis News: Every once in a while a man ruins his reputation by working too actively at his profession. Now, for instance, there's Admiral Roosevelt.

Menasha Record: If La Follette is a danger to the state as many of us believe, it is just as necessary to defeat him with the name "republican" over his head as without it.

Alma Center News: The regular republican ticket is headed by Edward Scofield. His is the ticket recognized by the national convention. The old soldier vote on the state will go largely to Scofield. They know him to be right when he was there before.

Chicago Chronicle: Rev. Mr. Wagner's preachments on "The Simple Life" are all right in their place. Most people are living that way because they have to.

Racine Times: About two weeks hence we shall see one chump propelling another through the public street in a wheelbarrow in payment of an election bet.

Oshkosh Northwestern: When even the churches cannot agree on the divorce question how can you expect the different states to unite on uniform laws to regulate this evil?

Madison Journal: According to ethics laid down by Governor La Follette, if a law is violated go to the legislature and have it amended, instead of going after the violator.

Marshfield Times: One of the strongest and most significant facts in this campaign is that the business men throughout the state are almost to a man arrayed against La Follette and La Folletteism. In the city of Marshfield 95 per cent. of all the business men on the street is opposed to La Follette's election.

Wausau Argus: The governor gives no assurance that the conditions which have brought about the largely increased expenses will be changed, but urged the necessity of increasing the expenses still more. Is it any wonder that taxpayers are staggered and led to wonder what a continuance of the present administration in power will lead to?

Chicago Inter Ocean: The total attendance at St. Louis from April 30 to Oct. 30 is 15,934,295, against a total attendance at Chicago from May 1 to Oct. 30 of 27,539,521. The indications are that the attendance at St. Louis for November will be larger than that of September or October, bringing the total, probably, up to 20,000,000 for the seven months, as compared with 27,539,521 for the six months at Chicago. Under the circumstances, this is a good record.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: Bishop Nicholson has placed a ban on the re-marriage of divorced persons so far as his diocese is concerned, and has served notice on his priests to that effect already. In the course of his sermon Sunday morning the bishop said: "The convention did not accomplish all that we wished in the way of legislation against the re-marriage of divorced persons. By a vote of the convention however it was decided to leave the settlement of the question to bishops, and if any pastor in this diocese wants to know whether he may marry any divorced person he has his answer right here."

Shawano Advocate: If Folk, of Missouri, was in Wisconsin he would doubtless have La Follette indicted by the grand jury.

Chicago Record-Herald: The man who invented the monkey wrench lives in a $2,000 house at Williamsburg, N. Y. "Where d—d he get it?"

Oshkosh Times: The governor is getting more rabid. In his talks to the people, which merely indicates that he is losing his nerve, in the face of impending defeat.

San Claire Leader: Representative Adam Bede says that the effort to start a Christian Endeavor chapter in the Philippines was a failure because "the missionaries couldn't find anybody to pin badges to."

Chicago Tribune: If you fellows make too much fuss about my estimation of what the Philippians cost me, I'll raise the figure to a billion dollars. You can't scare me!—Judge Parker.

Oshkosh Northwestern: The only possible danger seems to be that a good many of the republicans who will vote for the democratic state ticket this year may forget to mark their tickets for the regular republican electors for president.

Milwaukee Sentinel: It is reported that in the event of his defeat Governor La Follette will turn to literary work. A few successful articles on "How to Draw a Salary Without Going Near the Job" from his trenchant pen would prove hot stuff for the winter numbers of McClure's or Collier's.

Boating Season Closes: Many of the owners of launches on the river are preparing to take their craft out for the winter. "The Slater" belonging to E. S. Williams and claiming the speed record for this season on the Rock river, was put out of commission today.

A Birthday Party: Stanley S. Judd, son of Dr. and Mrs. Judd, is celebrating his tenth birthday anniversary with eighteen boy and girl friends at a party given at his home this afternoon.

FOREMAN OVERCOME BY DUST AND GAS

Patrick Burns Lies Unconscious for Three Hours in Lime Kiln at Beet Sugar Plant.

Patrick Burns, foreman of the lime kiln at the Beet Sugar plant, near company's plant in Spring Brook, was overcome by the gas emanating from the kiln last evening and after lying in an unconscious state for over three hours was found by Mr. Reese, a fellow workman, who carried him to the engine room and called Dr. Palmer.

When Mr. Burns became conscious again he was assisted to his home and it is now expected that he will be back to attend his duties this evening. Mr. Burns works on the night shift and last evening entered the kiln to make his regular inspection and remained in the kiln longer than usual, not realizing the effect the dust, always present in the air of a lime kiln, and the gas, let off in the burning, would have. The gas given off is similar to carbonic acid gas or the death or fire damp of mines.

WHITEHEAD AT EVANSVILLE

Big Rallies Will Be Held on Saturday and Monday Nights Next—Much Enthusiasm.

Governor La Follette talked in Beloit last evening. He went further in advising a bolt of Whitehead and the assembly nominees, than he did here Monday night. He openly denounced Senator Whitehead. He waxed eloquent when he talked on his wrongs and the wrongs inflicted upon his measures by the conservative republicans. He did not mince matters, he spoke out from the shoulder and told his hearers that support of the ticket meant nothing that this was a campaign of principles. If he can impress this upon the republicans, the state, though they will desert him by the thousands and their loyalty to him has simply through the fact he is on the republican ticket. The governor worked for applause last night and was disappointed, he had a large house but the applause came only in spots, not as a spontaneous outburst of enthusiasm.

Clever Devices
The Governor used clever devices to attract the attention of the audience at Beloit. He did not denounce Chas. Valentine and Alexander Whitehead, the two assemblymen from the second and first districts at the last legislature as he did in Janesville, but he told the audience to vote against Hanson the present nominee in Beloit. His denunciation of Valentine and Whitehead on Monday night came as a surprise to the La Follette men. They had not expected that Valentine would be abused, as he was considered a La Follette supporter. The Governor last night took up the statement alleged to have been made by Senator Whitehead that if the Governor would let him alone, he would let the governor alone. This statement emanates from ex-senator Miller of Madison, who had a conversation with Whitehead during the summer, and distorted his statement to suit his own convenience.

Is At Evansville
Senator Whitehead is at Evansville tonight. He will enter the ballroom of R. M. Richmond and tell the people of the first district what the facts on state issues really are. He will not however stoop to refute the charges made by Mr. Richmond regarding his vote on the brewers' bill or the cigarette bill, nor will he discuss the methods the democratic nominee is using to gain the prohibition vote. Mr. Richmond is a well-known in Janesville to be taken seriously in his plea for the prohibition vote on the grounds of a prohibitionist. This feature of his campaign is the laughing stock of men who went to college with him, or men who are associated in a business way with him. Stories of his losing his hat, umbrella and overcoat, in Milwaukee and not remembering where he had been the night before are being related.

A Busy Week
This will be a busy week for the county. Tomorrow night Senator Whitehead speaks at Milton Junction, Friday at Clinton Junction and Saturday here. On Saturday night Amos P. Wilder of Madison, who knows the Governor from all personal and business standpoint will speak at the Whitehead meeting. Mr. Wilder is one of the brainiest, keenest of the state and his address promises to be most amusing, entertaining and instructive. Monday night the wind up of the campaign will come with the speech of Jeffris.

LOCAL NEWS IN BRIEF.

Signatures Not Genuine: Word comes from Milwaukee that an injunction was granted the Social democratic party which keeps the Socialist Labor Party off the official ballot. The court holds that the signatures on the nomination papers were not genuine.

Removed from Hospital: Little Eddie Griffin, who has been in the hospital for the last week after having his foot amputated was removed in Russell's ambulance yesterday to his home on Emmett street.

Enters a Denial: Former Sheriff J. L. Bear says that he is not a candidate for the office of city marshal.

Two Horses Mired: Two horses were mired yesterday in the sewer ditch on Division street which was recently filled with loose earth and then flooded with water. One animal belonging to Mrs. Schoor, of the stable butcher, was buried up to its head and had to be pulled out with a team.

Special Attractions: In another part of the Gazette today Manager Myers announces the important engagement here tomorrow evening of the Lyman H. Howe company at the Grand. The company comes here from one of the most remarkable runs in the history of the Pabst theatre at Milwaukee where they exhibited to nearly 5,000 people on Oct. 7 and 8th. The Milwaukee critics proclaim it an immense hit and novelty of the amusement season in this city. The views given are the first moving pictures ever presented without flicker or vibration.

Kingbolt Broken: While out delivering groceries for the Lowell company last evening, Rob Brown met with an accident that nearly resulted in the loss of his eyesight. The kingbolt of the wagon in which he was riding broke and he hanging at the reins was pulled over the dashboard and his face cut in several places and his right eye blackened.

Something New in Autos: A strange looking vehicle looking like a buckboard without wheels was exhibited on West Milwaukee street today. It had rope belts and hard rubber tires. After looking it over a farmer was heard to declare: "The roads is made for horses and wagons and not for any such contraptions as that."

THE WEATHER:

Temperature last 24 hours taken from U. S. registered thermometer at Helmstreet's drugstore: highest, 65 above; lowest, 40 above; ther, at 7 a. m., 40; at 3 p. m., 65; wind, S. by E.

RENEWED INTEREST IN HUMANE SOCIETY

Evidenced by Large Attendance at Meeting Last Night—Interesting Matters Discussed.

Such renewed interest in the work of the Humane society at the meeting held last evening, that it was decided without dissenting voice to continue the good labors in this field. President, E. D. Helmstreet, presided at the session, and W. G. Palmer was appointed to act as secretary. The reports of the officers were read and adopted and that of the various bands of mercy proved of particular interest. The movement was started on Jan. 7, 1904, by E. D. Helmstreet, school commissioner of the second ward, who organized a band of thirty-three members, presenting them with a full outfit of badges, certificates, and song-books, also a gold badge to be contested for each month—the wearer to win it by some act of kindness. The members of this band named after Mr. Helmstreet, are mostly from the eighth grade of the Adams school. They have held seven meetings. The wearers of the badge have been: Ed Shoemaker, Mary O'Grady, John Wilbur, Ross Myers, and Leora Brace. The Fletcher band from the sixth grade of the Adams school was organized the same month and now has forty-two members. Third grade scholars of the Adams school organized the Golden Rule band with thirty-four members; fourth grade scholars the Lincoln band with forty-nine members. The Helpers of the Helpless, thirty-eight Adams school scholars, was organized in February. Other organizations are: the Farnsworth band, the Peters band, the Millicent band, the Band of Kindness, the Adams band, the Webster band, the Woods band, the Douglas band, the Jackson band, and the Tallman band. The nominating committee named the following officers for the ensuing year:

President—Richard Valentine.
Vice president—S. B. Heddies.
Secretary—Miss Millie Chittenden.
Treasurer—Mrs. C. S. Crosby.
Collector—Mrs. John Peters.
Dr. J. H. Whiting traced the disappearance of broken down horses from the streets and the disinclination of the high checking habit to the work of the society, and complimented Agent Kenyon for compelling the dog-catcher to desist from mistreating animals in his charge. Miss Cornelia Reddy was strongly opposed to this dog-catching ordinance and favored action by the Humane society to have the measure repealed by the city council. The city press was extended a vote of thanks for the interest manifested in the work of the organization. Mrs. John Peters, Mrs. C. S. Crosby, and Miss Millie Chittenden were named as delegates to the state convention to be held in Milwaukee.

SEVERAL DAYS OF STORMY WEATHER

SOME DAYS ALSO WILL BE VERY BALMY.

PREDICTIONS GIVEN BY HICKS

The Rev. Mr. Hicks' Forecasts for the Month of November—Storms Last Ten Days.

November weather, according to Rev. Mr. Hicks, will not be very stormy and the roughest weather of the thirty days will come between the 20th and 30th. These last ten days are in the scope of the Venus period, having its center in December. The first storm period covers the first six days of the month with its center on the 3rd. This is the regular Vulcan equinox with moon on the equator and in perigee on the 5th. This is the only disturbing cause within reach of this period. In the most western extremes the weather will turn most balmy and the barometer will begin falling about the 1st or 2d. From the 3rd to the 6th these conditions will develop into cloudiness and rain and pass eastwardly across the country. The culmination of the period will fall on and touching the 6th upon which day rain with possible thunder will turn to colder and snow in the north and be followed by a rising barometer, high east and low west, and much colder. Such disturbances, but the intervening of the new moon on the 7th may modify results and hide the storm conditions of the first over into the second period.

Situation Problematical.
The second storm period is central on the 8th and 9th. The Vulcan reactionary and moon at extreme declination south, near its now are the only disturbing factors. This in another case in which the intervening new moon renders the situation problematical. It changes to colder and high barometer follow the first storm period promptly, quick return to warmer and falling barometer will return on the 7th throwing the influence of the new moon into the disturbances of the 8th and 9th. Autumn wind and rain at this time, followed by change to colder, with snow squalls and frosty nights may be expected.

Snow and Colder Weather.
On the 14th, 15th and 16th the third storm period will culminate although its effects will be felt from the 12th to the 17th. The Vulcan equinox with moon at the sixth declination in apogee are the disturbing causes at this period. It may be expected that about the 12th and 13th marked changes to warmer and falling barometer will begin in the west and by the 14th cloudiness and rain will be spreading eastward across the country. These general disturbances will reach most parts of the country from the 15th to the 17th and decided changes to higher barometer, heavy snow squalls and cold, high winds will follow promptly down from the northwest. Frosts and freezing may be expected during the nights succeeding these disturbances.

Conditions Unsettled.
The Vulcan reactionary and first stage of the Venus period will disturb during the fourth storm period which is central on the 19th and 20th. The moon on the celestial equator on the 18th will bring a sudden reaction to the warmer, the barometer will fall rapidly, wide cloud areas will form, and the autumnal squalls of rain turning to snow will visit many localities in their eastward journey across the country. This period leads up to the Venus disturbance, with the full moon on the 22nd and these facts make it quite probable that unsettled weather will continue from the 19th to the fifth storm periods.

November Cold Wave.
The fifth storm period extends from the 24th to the 25th. This Vulcan period is fully within the Venus period, having the combined forces of these two as disturbing factors. The moon is at near full and at its extreme north declination. Rev. Hicks forecasts for this period the most severe and general storms of the month. Beginning about the time the full moon on the 22nd, the barometer will fluctuate and finally fall at marked storm readings, temperature and winds will sympathize with low barometer. Clouds will organize in western section about the 25th, during the 26th to the 29th storms of decided force will march eastwardly across the country. The first stages of these storms will be warm and rainy, but the last stages will be of decided boreal character. As the storm centers work eastward carrying with them areas of warmth and rain, westerly to northwesterly rains with winds will follow, the barometer will rise and snow will take the place of rain in all northern sections. Smogues from the northwest will rush over the lake regions and through the interior generally, bringing a good sized November cold wave.

NOTICE TO VOTERS

Notice is hereby given that a voting machine will be on exhibition at each of the voting places in the various wards in the city on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, Nov. 2d and 3d, 1904, from 7:00 to 9:00 o'clock, and that an instructor will be present to show how the machine is operated. I suggest that every voter who has not already done so call and learn how to operate the machine as this will be the last chance before election day. The voting places are located as follows: First ward, at the city hall; second ward, at the voting booth at the corner of Fourth avenue and N. Main street; third ward, at the voting booth on Racine street near S. Main street; fourth ward, at the voting booth, No. 53 S. Academy street; fifth ward, at the voting booth on Holmes street, near Center avenue.

Democratic Celebrates Greeting Prominent Politicians of That Party—Enroute to Burlington.

Prominent democrats this morning held a brief conference between train time at the St. Paul depot with George W. Peck, ex-governor and candidate for governor on the democratic ticket, and Mayor Rose of Milwaukee. The democratic campaigning party, in which the two celebrities were, was on its way to Burlington in a special car, the Alexandria, attached to the 10:40 train. During the fifteen or twenty minute stop a short informal meeting was held with P. J. Mount, J. J. Cunningham, and I. Connors, all ardent democrats. Governor Peck seemed to be as fresh as he ever was and no mark of fatigue or worry has the campaign left noticeable upon him. He was in the same genial mood so characteristic of him and had plenty of time to speak to all who spoke to him. Among others with whom he greeted was John H. Nicholson, candidate for lieutenant governor on the prohibition ticket.

HAVE INVITED COMMON COUNCIL

ROCKFORD EXTENDS INVITATION TO BIG CELEBRATION.

TO LAY THE CORNER STONE

Illinois City Will Have a Hundred Thousand Dollar City Hall When Building is Completed.

Alderman William Johnson of Rockford was in the city today bearing an invitation to Mayor J. P. Hutchinson to attend the ceremonies on laying the corner-stone of the handsome new city hall building being erected in Rockford. The ceremonies attendant upon the event will be held November 10, and the plans are for one of the largest celebrations ever held in the Forest city and one that will equal that of June, 1903, when President Theodore Roosevelt dedicated the Memorial hall building.

The day is to be a civic one, and the plans are for having all the places of business closed and a parade of all the workmen and civic societies of the city, as well as the military, fire department and every piece of apparatus used by the city in its various departments.

Invitations have been extended the candidates for governor on the several tickets and the successful one is to lay the corner-stone and make the address. The congressmen, legislative members and other various officials are to be in attendance, as well as representatives of the many cities nearby.

The committees in charge of the preparations have received favorable responses to nearly all the invitations which have been extended, and it is figured that one of the features of the day will be the visit to the city on the occasion of the corner-stone laying of the 300 or more former Rockfordites who now reside in Chicago. There are expected to be 5,000 visitors to the city.

The new municipal building at Rockford is to be one of the handsome structures in the northern part of the state and will cost in the neighborhood of $100,000. It is being built of stone, and is located on a slightly elevation on the east side of the river just off State street.

Alderman Johnson, who is a member of the city committee on public buildings and grounds and also a special commissioner from the city to visit the mayors of the various cities nearby, is one of the men who first proposed the building and has been a hard worker for it. He was accompanied on the trip today by H. J. Groneman of the Rockford and Burlington line who will try to arrange for excursions to the Forest city on that day, and E. H. Marriott of the Rockford Star, the latter having accompanied the alderman to Beloit also where Mayor Gault was extended an invitation.

KILKENNY HARMONY

That is the Kind That Prevails Among New York Democrats.

Not since the traditional cats of Kilkenny were hung across a line by their tails has there been such an amusing harmony of subdued discord as is heard in New York, now that Judge D. Cady Herick has been nominated by the Democrats for governor. Judge Parker wanted Edward M. Shepard, or District Attorney Jerome nominated for governor in order to galvanize his campaign into the semblance of life.

"David R. Hill wanted John B. Stanchfield, because Stanchfield best represented the organization outside of New York City, to which Mr. Hill owes his ascendancy in the state Democracy. Mr. Hill had no use for Herick, who, as Democratic boss of Albany county, has been a thorn in his side for years. But, it is said, he accepted Herick and put him in nomination on the principle of the salesman who sold a coat marked $15 for $10, on doubtful credit, because he would lose less if the bill was never paid. Hill will lose less in Herick's defeat than if he had succeeded in nominating his friend Stanchfield.

Senator Patrick H. McCarron, the Brooklyn boss, to whom Judge Parker owes his nomination, wanted Comptroller Grant nominated, and for a time he had Mr. Hill's ostensible support for Grant. Judge Parker and Hill went back on McCarron; the former to placate Charles F. Murphy and Tammany, and the latter because he couldn't help himself.

Tammany accepted Herick because it was willing to accept anybody who stood for the disunion of Boss McCarron. As a tomahawk in the hands of Charles F. Murphy with which to dispatch McCarron, D. Cady Herick would serve Tammany much better than either Shepard or Jerome.

Results, did not Judge Herick's career on the bench present sterling claims on the admiration and necessities of Tammany? His abuse of his judicial position to the political exigencies in Albany is along the line of what Tammany considers the higher walks of politics. Moreover, has he not practically pardoned an official blackmailer and protector of disorderly houses by imposing a paltry fine of $1,000 on the notorious Police Captain Diamond?—a stroke of judicial leniency toward corruption in New York City peculiarly attractive to Tammany. If he would so act as judge, what prodigies of clemency to "good men" might he not perform as governor? So Tammany dropped Mayor McClellan, and swallowed Herick and his record with genuine relish and noisy gusto.

Not so, however, the Democratic press of New York City. The WORLD takes its medicine with evident nausea; the TIMES turns Herick's picture to the wall and fixes its gaze on Judge Parker, with the reflection that our honorable nomination in four years is as far as the New York Democracy can be expected to pander to the somewhat blunted moral sentiment of its constituency. The EVENING POST openly repudiates Herick, saying that a proper regard for its own reputation forbids giving him the negative support of silence.

From this brief resume it may be gathered that the elements for a harmonious Democratic campaign in New York are all that could be desired from a Republican point of view.

Democratic Financial Management.

On the 1st of July, 1892, the last year of the Harrison administration, the total bonded debt of the United States was, in round numbers, $585,000,000. On the 1st of July, 1897, the last year of the second Cleveland administration, the total bonded debt was $813,000,000, an increase of $228,000,000 during four years of perfect peace. July 1, 1892, the annual interest charge on the public debt was $22,800,000. July 1, 1897, it was $31,297,000, an increase of $11,497,000 during four years of Democratic administration.

A party that cannot administer the government during a short period of four years without largely increasing the public debt and the annual interest account is not fit to be entrusted with the control of affairs.

Democracy's effort to show that times have not been good under Roosevelt's administration is a ludicrous performance. The compilation of all the strikes which have taken place in the last three years, instead of showing lack of prosperity, indicates the country has been unusually prosperous. Strikes are a rarity in bad times. Workmen demand higher wages only when business is good. They are wise enough to know that they stand a better chance of getting what they want when factories are flooded with orders than when they are running on short time.

Protection has done more for the American workman and farmer than any other policy carried out by Republicans. If "protection is robbery," as the Democratic platform asserts, the only persons "robbed" are the manufacturers and tollers of Europe. American workmen certainly do not suffer from protection. They are the chief beneficiaries of the greatest of Republican policies. Without a protective tariff, wages would soon drop to the European level, which is from 60 to 100 per cent below the rate now paid in the United States.

Where now would be our finances, our revenues, our domestic industries and our foreign trade? If the Democratic party had succeeded in 1893 or in 1907, where will they all be four years hence if a Democratic president and congress should be elected next November?

When once liberated within your system, it produces a most wonderful effect. It's worth one's last dollar to feel the pleasant life that comes from taking Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. Smith Drug Co.

A BOY ON DESERT ISLAND SEEKS AID

Congressman Hull Will Endeavor to Secure Release of Youth Who Violated Military Discipline.

Des Moines, Iowa, Nov. 2.—To rescue a 17-year-old Iowa boy from five years' imprisonment on a desert island in the Philippines is a task which Congressman J. A. H. Hull of this district has undertaken. H. R. Proudfoot of this city received a letter from his nephew, Clarence Henderson, disclosing his whereabouts. Several years ago the lad ran away from his home in Mount Airy and had never been heard of until his letter arrived. Through some scheme he managed to get a forged consent of his parents to enter the government service. He went to the Philippines, where he was sentenced to ninety days for some breach of military rules. He says he became stubborn and refused to perform the work assigned to him. For insubordination he was then brought before the military tribunal and sentenced to five years. He is imprisoned at Marar Island in Laganuda bay.

Practice What He Preaches. The archbishop of Westminster has become a total abstainer. Like Cardinal Manning he has recognized the havoc made among his flock by drunkenness, and as he must preach total abstinence to those who need it, he has decided to practice it as well.

A CARD. We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 60-cent bottle of Green's warranted Syntex or Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25-cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.

Legislative Landmarks. Some of the landmarks of historic legislation enacted during President Roosevelt's administration are: (1) The law for the civil government of the Philippines; (2) corporate legislation, chief of which is that creating the department of commerce and labor, with broad powers, which, in the nature of things, must steadily grow; (3) Cuban reciprocity conferring material benefits on both Cuba and the United States; (4) the treaty and laws that make the Panama canal a certainty; (5) the law for the irrigation of the arid lands of the great west.

Against these accomplished results during one administration of the party that does things the Democratic party has nothing to offer but empty words and high-sounding promises.

Two Judges with Political Fates.

Democracy can always be depended on to blunder. The nomination of Judge Parker was a blunder because he received his early political training from D. B. Hill, one of the most notorious wire-pullers and workers in devious ways New York has produced. The nomination of D. Cady Herick for governor of New York also was a blunder, because he was "boss" of the Democratic "machine" at Albany before his election to the bench. The Albany "machine" has a reputation as unenviable as Tammany's.

The Flag Should Not Come Down.

Among the reasons given by John S. George, a life-long Democrat and a nephew of the late Governor R. P. Flower, of New York, for declining his intention to vote for President Roosevelt, is this:

The Democratic leaders are making speeches against so-called militarism and imperialism, and they are demanding that the Philippine Islands be given up and abandoned, so far as the guardianship of the United States is concerned. I do not believe that the American flag should ever come down from any pole that it is once raised upon.

Candidate and Platform.

This year's presidential election will not be won by any formal platform. The Republican platform is good, but the Republican candidate is better. The truth is Mr. Roosevelt is the real platform for both parties. He is the main point of attack by the Democrats and the main source of strength for the Republicans. He would be elected without any platform except the record of the party and his own.

The "Usual" Roosevelt.

Democratic editors and speakers are united in declaring that President Roosevelt is "an unsafe man." If that is so, he has not been remarkably successful in his "unsafe" undertakings—in settling the coal strike, in enforcing the anti-trust law, in acquiring the Panama canal strip, and in all his delicate dealings with foreign nations.

Having "monkeyed" with "Rooseveltism" until they found the buzz saw, the Democrats are now tempting the foolkiller by reviving the cry that "protection is robbery." Eight years ago the workmen of this country decided that protection is a blessing, and they have not changed their minds.

President Roosevelt personally stands for courage, honesty, decency, strength and common sense. As a Republican he stands for wise administration of the laws, serving all classes alike. He realizes he is the servant of all the people, sworn to act without discrimination.

Parker is a strict constitutionalist and Herick is one of those party losses who wants to know what the constitution got to do with the natural right of the citizen with the longest judicial pull to knock the persimmon.

Three words in the Democratic platform are sufficient to defeat that party. "Protection is robbery" is a phrase that is helping the Republicans more than a hundred speeches by campaign orators.

You May Be Cured

After doctoring for eleven months and taking forty-three bottles of medicine and finding no relief for leucorrhea resulting from irritation of a fallen womb I took Wine of Cardui and fourteen bottles cured me. This seems strange but it is the simple truth. Wine of Cardui helped me from the time I began taking it and having heard it praised so highly by friends who had tried it I felt satisfied that it would help me, and it did. It cured me. Took every bit of ache, pain and headache, cramps and dragging down sensations away from me. It was a wonderful medicine and a true friend to women. When I look back on the months of torture I had it seems like a hideous nightmare. Wine of Cardui will cure any woman I believe. I have more faith in it than all other medicines combined.

WINE OF CARDUI

How can you refuse relief when you know you are growing worse day after day? Shooting pains, irregularity, inflammation and bearing down pains make thousands of women miserable. Why drag through life never enjoying anything? Wine of Cardui has made over 1,500,000 weak and suffering women well and strong. Would you go to your druggist today and secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui and begin to take it at once? Do that and the health Mrs. Kingsley writes about will soon be yours. If you think special directions are needed in your case, address, giving symptoms, Ladies' Advisory Department, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

LELAND FISKE,

Rockton, Ill.

Offered Vanderbilt Party.

Mr. Alfred Vanderbilt drove the coach Venture to the races at the Long Island tracks nearly every day during the season, and on the way down stopped at a roadhouse at Prospect Park Circle for refreshments and a change of horses.

One day, while the Vanderbilt party was seated at a table in the main dining room, an individual sat down at an adjoining table and called for champagne. Noticing his neighbors, of whose identity he was not aware, partaking of a more modest beverage, he invited them to join him. The invitation was not noticed and he got angry. Flashing a roll of bills, he cried:

"You're cheap snafes! Maybe you'd like to have a little of this! There's $500 here!"

Before he could say any more two horrified waiters hustled him out, and he nearly collapsed when one of them said:

"Say, you're a piker! Don't you know who that was? Why, that was Vanderbilt!"

The Tan That Won't Come Off.

Courtleigh looked with mingled astonishment and apprehension at Miss Raquet, as she hurried from the tennis court and bathed her sunburned face in a barrel set outside the club house to catch rain water. The attention Courtleigh had been paying the fair maiden warranted the assumption that he was interested in having her complexion maintained in a good state of preservation.

"Don't you worry," said Miss Tat-tie. "Nothing sets a tan like cold water. If a girl bathes her sunburn in lead water a few times she will acquire a tan that will endure through the winter, in spite of all the cold cream and skin emollients on earth. It simply won't come off. Gertie will have a tan like a Sandy Hook pilot before she gets back to the city. A girl who wants to stay out in the sun and still go back to town without tan bathes her face in water as hot as she can stand it."

Perry, Ransom; C. G. Messerole, Gowrie, Iowa. "What is the Grain Shippers' Remedy for the Annual Car Famine?" J. T. Churchill, Galesville; Charles Cottrell, McDowell; Conrad Trecker, Odell. "The Much-Abused Half-Cent Penalty—Is It Legal or Desirable?" Charles Addicks, Bement; W. N. Randerson, Wanebag; G. W. King, Kings.

GREAT HAUL FOR INSPECTORS

Importer of Rare Drug Is Outwitted by Customs Agents.

New York, Nov. 2.—Customs agents in Hoboken have arrested a longshoreman in the act of removing from a dock a bag containing 380 ounces of a drug used in the treatment of consumption, which is said to be worth in this country $150 an ounce. The prisoner declared the bag was handed to him over the side of a steamer just in from Europe and that he was told to carry it immediately to an address in Manhattan, where he would be well paid. Officials of the customs service are of the opinion that there is an organized gang of drug smugglers operating largely in the manner described by the longshoreman. A duty of 25 per cent prevails on nearly all medicinal preparations and drugs, making the successful smuggler a lucrative returns.

American-French Treaty.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Secretary Hay and Ambassador Jusserand have signed a treaty providing for the settlement by arbitration of any possible disputes between the United States and France. It is drawn on the lines of the Anglo-French arbitration treaty.

Jew Baiters on Trial.

Gomel, Russia, Nov. 2.—The trial of the persons charged with being responsible for the anti-Jewish riots here in September, 1903, is proceeding slowly and with open doors and is attracting immense interest.

Oil Boom in New Mexico.

Roswell, N. M., Nov. 2.—Discovery of oil in the Cottingham-Rose craters well, twelve miles north of here, has occasioned wild excitement in the Pecos valley. Hundreds are staking claims.

Fatal Collision in Iowa.

Ottumwa, Iowa, Nov. 2.—A freight train on the Rock Island collided with a work train at Laddsdale, killing two bridge men. Seven others were injured—one fatally and four seriously.

Gives Up Life's Struggle.

New York, Nov. 2.—Because he had been unable to support his wife and six children, Charles Bachman turned on seventeen gas jets and when found was dead.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

Washington, Nov. 2.—The president has issued the Thanksgiving proclamation, setting aside Thursday, Nov. 24, "to be observed as a day of festival and thanksgiving by all the people of the United States, at home and abroad."

Dust Pouring From Vesuvius.

Naples, Nov. 2.—Mount Vesuvius is again giving signs of activity, the crater noisily emitting dense columns of dust, which the wind carries westward in such quantities that at Torre and Poggioli umbrellas are necessary.

Accident Due to Halloween.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 2.—Thinking that an object was a Halloween dummy on the tracks, Motorman William Griley did not stop his car and ran over and killed an unknown man.
